Presentation by Judy Bolton Jarrett

"White is not a mere absence of color; it is a shining and affirmative thing: as fierce as red, as definite as black." - G. K. Chesterton, English philosopher

"Those who know my work also know that I am a strong colorist -- the more intense, the better. I truly think that as I get older, my art gets brighter! That might have something to do with aging eyes. Because I'm constantly challenging myself, I decided to see whether I could get as much power out of white as I do with red (I've done quite a few almost completely red paintings) or any other color, including black. It has become an ongoing project in that each month I paint one or two mostly white paintings. I hope to demonstrate how shades of white set up the contrast needed for an effective, almost-monochromatic painting.

My first showing of this theme was at the Atalaya Arts Festival in 2009. I was awarded third place (which was the top painting award)! The two jurors commented at the awards ceremony that "she understands white." Although I am not quite sure what that meant (or means), but I enjoy the challenge!" - Judy Bolton Jarrett

Judy is a native of Winder, GA. She graduated from Presbyterian College in Clinton, SC, and was an English teacher for 21 years. She has been a full-time artist for the past 22 years.
